Whirl Of Parties, Dances Will Honor Graduating Class At University

Reception at Government House and Out-of-Town Excursion Included

WITH final examinations and all thoughts centered upon the event of the next few weeks, the students graduating from the University of Alberta are planning to have a big party at Alberta Mates with a bevy of tea, dances and parties. The results of examination results, come what may, will be resolutely forgotten. Old and new, the students of the Business of Living will be things of the past and future. The program of the party will be hapless to leave nothing but the hapless of memory behind. There is a little sadness in the air, to add a little tinge to the gay colors of the green.

The senior class executive, Dr. H. R. Thornton, honorary president, Mr. W. E. McDonald, president, Miss Morrison, Miss Dorothy Bannister, Miss Beth Cawdron, Mr. B. Aiello met Wednesday in the Arts Building to draw an outline of activities for the week preceding convocation.

The program will commence Tuesday, May 9, with the tree planting ceremony by the tree planting committee under the supervision of Dr. R. C. Wallace. In the afternoon Dr. H. R. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Rutherford will follow the "graduating" custom by holding a tea party in their residence in Sandiesham Drive for the students. Dances will be in the evening with Miss F. E. Dodd as hostess will conclude the day's activities.

On Wednesday May 10, members of the faculty and class will be invited to an afternoon. A theatre party is scheduled for the evening. The students requested to observe notices regarding the securing of tickets.

Rehearsals will be held for the second tea on Thursday evening, May 11. An out-of-town committee will be in charge of the Cooking Lake on Friday, where a picnic will take place in the afternoon. The schedule for Saturday, May 12, will be the evening for which final plans will be completed and announced later. The entire program, the executive, the program is cooperating with the faculty.

The band and service will be held in Convocation Hall on Sunday evening, May 13. The band and the services will conclude in the evening with a dinner. Alumni Association will give a dinner, the band will play, the graduating class will follow and the dance will be held in the gymnasium.

On Tuesday, graduation day there will be a tea at Athabasca Hall, followed by a dinner. The festivities will conclude in the evening with a dignified graduation ball.

The command of the Senate for the grant of degrees for the degrees of Bachelor of Divinity: Wm. McDonald, B.A.; John H. Perrin, B.A.; Lawrence G. Sisler, B.A. and George D. Young, B.A.

Weddings

PERIODICALS

Of interest to a wide circle of friends was the marriage of Jessie McPhail Givans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Givans of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Peden, also of Edmonton, which took place at First Presbyterian Church on Friday evening, May 1 at half past six o'clock. Dr. A. R. Osborn read the marriage service.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was in singing in the choir. She wore a black dress with a graceful cap of lace with a floral caplet of the material. Her shoes were beige satin and she wore a lace garter and a pink and deep cream roses.

Miss Givans was given a white and a green frock of shell pink satin, with short jacket of lace. The dress was of pink and white carnations.

Mr. Hugh Peden was best man. Father of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Villet were present. A dinner supper was served to fifty guests in the Peacock room. Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Villet and Mr. and Mrs. Peden received with the bride and bridegroom.

A reception for the bride was proposed by Mr. C. Swanson and Mr. W. J. Murray made a witty response. Mr. G. H. Villet, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones responded, quoting verse of his own composition.

Bridge and dancing were arranged and the evening was well conducted. The bride and groom and their parents were served by Mr. and Mrs. G. Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jones.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Peden, Mr. and Mrs. G. Murray, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Villet, Mr. and Mrs. D. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Givans, Mr. and Mrs. S. ### Naomi Greenberg Delights Music Lovers Wednesday

Brilliant Young Pianist Heard in Recital By Large Audience

Music lovers filled the auditorium of the Masonic Temple on Wednesday evening to feast their ears on the concord of sweet sound that made up the piano recital which took place in the afternoon.

Miss Naomi Greenberg, a pupil of Mrs. Nellie Golen, who presented the afternoon recital under the patronage of the Women's Christian Association.

The fact that a full house greeted the artist was ample testimony of the excellent work of the young artist who had been here to try for a large audience at this late in the season, is a feat in itself.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McDonald plan to leave at the end of the month to reside at the coast.

Miss Helen Evans of Edson, who returned to the city on Sunday after a return from a holiday trip to Vancouver and Victoria.

Mrs. H. G. Timbers has gone to Baja for the week end.

Mrs. Margaret Sommerville McDonald has returned to MacLeod after a vacation in the mountains.

Art students who have been on vacation for many years ago that Naomi Goldman, a promising young student, that she first played in a concert at Fort Smith in 1926.

But much has come to be expected of her, and she has proved herself as a pianist on former occasions.

Naomi, who was born in 1912, has been a more mature artist than she had been on any previous occasion.

She has been here on Wednesday, and has been making good progress in the study of the piano.

The young artist, who has been making good progress in the study of the piano, has produced a tone appealing to the ear at all times, smooth, incisive and rhythmic.

Her pensive charms play with mannerisms she created, key board, a deliverance in confidence and skill, and a naturalness in her playing.

Opposition to St. Lawrence Plan Looms

Ratification Finds Its Enemy in United States

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Opposition to the St. Lawrence seaway treaty so long as it limits to 1,000 feet the maximum width of any division of water from Lake Michigan was expressed yesterday in a motion to amend the original resolutions committee filed by Senator Lewis (D., Ill.).

Lewis pointed out the treaty's provision of limiting American diversion of the amount percent in a single year to 10 percent of the total diversion of water from Lake Michigan was expressed yesterday in a motion to amend the original resolutions committee filed by Senator Lewis (D., Ill.).

To write this decision into the treaty, Senator Lewis contended, was "misleading and imprudent," adding that in July, 1930, congress authorized the St. Lawrence seaway to-gulf waterway route and gave engineers until 1936 to report.

Then, he said, no one can ratify this treaty "as it is tantamount to nullification of the original intent of the engineers," who had said from 5,000 to 10,000 feet of water would be necessary for the waterway.

HOLLYWOOD GOSSIP

INTIMATE GLIMPSES AND INSIDE STUFF ON THE MOVIE COLONY

By DAN THOMAS

GOES BRITISH

HOLLYWOOD.—It's 4—Revelations of a movie columnist: Jack Holt's full name is Charles Holt.

John Hammond is about the only actor in Hollywood who owns no pet.

And John Darrow is having a toupee, or something of that nature, made for him by a local hairdresser.

Here are the real names of the Four Marx Brothers: Gruchie is Leo and Zeppo is Herbert.

Jean Harlow has double-jointed thumbs.

Nearly a mile of barbed wire was used in the construction of the German border, Captain Charlie Choate is.

And in the same movie, more rain was used than drenched the set.

HARRYMORE'S WATERS

John Harrymore never wears a hat in public and the only one he now owns was purchased 12 years ago.

Lee Tracy can talk at the rate of 25 words a minute when he really tries to get up.

John Arledge departed a few days ago on a trip to Europe. He can't say, he says, it's cheaper than staying in Hollywood.

He has taken such a grip on Hollywood that the Ambassador hotel has put in a bike.

Perhaps that Marshall Duffield, Dorothy Lee affair isn't as bad as it's cracked up to be.

John Harrymore is staying at the Cocoanut Grove quite frequently of late—alone. And Dorothy is staying there.

POETIC FIRE

Eric Linden recently received a "threat" letter—written in poetry. Could that be post office license?

Marshall Duffield, a very popular brand of perfume, which he uses.

Quigley is taking a look at the daily "rushes" of his pictures and never sees them after they are finished.

Quigley reads detective stories of the set between scenes.

John Bowes and Doreen go on an absolute buttermilk diet for two days—good for the figure, or something like that.

HANDY RABBY

Handy Sander has installed a combination ice box and gas heater in his son's nursery so that his food will always be at the right temperature.

A short time ago Jean Harlow arranged for a screen test of Jay Wilcox, in whom she was quite interested. Ruth Channing was chosen to make the test with him. Miss Harlow was present at the test. Ruth is taking the place of Jean Harlow.

When Eddie Lowe married Dorothy Lee, he gave her a jeweled watch chain which Lillian wore around her ankle for years, never taking it off until it broke a few months ago.

Many Brian movies have been reported so numerous times.

Al Jolson East opposed the motion, which carried.

Conrad's discussion took place over the proposal to convert the city-owned McGrath house in the downtown area into a public hall at a cost of $60,000. Support was given by the recommendation of Al H. D. Anderson, who said that the proposal is that local real estate agents in the city be compensated for their services and that the amount of money to be received through the agreement could be secured if the city took over the house.

WHITE ELEPHANT

Al Jolson declared that the house had been a "white elephant" for him, but Eddie Alinsky said that the only way the city could obtain revenue from the building was by turning it into a public hall.

Al J. W. Fry supported him in his contention, but Alinsky said that the city could not afford to be so hasty in coming to a definite decision with regard to the proposal.

Alinsky said that the proposal was to turn the building into a public hall.

Alinsky therefore declined to support the proposal.

Conrad's discussion took place over the proposal to convert the city-owned McGrath house in the downtown area into a public hall at a cost of $60,000. Support was given by the recommendation of Al H. D. Anderson, who said that the proposal is that local real estate agents in the city be compensated for their services and that the amount of money to be received through the agreement could be secured if the city took over the house.

Al J. W. Fry supported him in his contention, but Alinsky said that the city could not afford to be so hasty in coming to a definite decision with regard to the proposal.

Delegation Urges Repairing Paving of 102 Avenue

Commissioners To Make Every Effort To Carry Out Work

Further Consideration to Be Given and Report Submitted to Council

ROAD IN BAD SHAPE

As a result of the delegation which Wednesday presented the condition of 102 avenue, city commissioners Thursday morning investigated ways and means of financing the paving project if it is carried through this year. Information on the subject was received from Mayor D. K. Knott. The mayor said City Engineer A. W. Mitchell was preparing a report on the condition of the avenue and the work which would be done on the road on the road to fit it for classification.

Urging that 102 avenue west of 124 street be put in good condition for vehicular traffic, and particularly for the use of city buses, the commissioners have a delegation of West End residents headed by Neil D. MacLean, who went on to the commissioners' Wednesday meeting.

Members of the delegation were told the commissioners would make every effort to put the highway in good shape providing the program could be carried out.

Commissioners—David Mitchell stated it had been estimated that more than $100,000 would be required to remove the present street railway trackage, which would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Speaking on behalf of property-holders in the district in question MacLean said: "We would like to have the paving carried out this year. While the avenue was fully paved, it was not in good condition. The law of the House of Commons forbids spending royal money to marry commoners."

Engaged To Marry Kaiser Kin

Announcement of the engagement of Prince Wilhelm of Prussia to Fraulein Sophie von Saliwil, (above), agreed.

COUNSEL CLASH IN HIGH COURT DURING ACTION

Mr. Justice Ives is Peacemaker During Suit for Separation

A little spat took place in suit for separation between two up-to-date women, Mrs. Justice Ives acting as peacemaker during the hearing of an action for judicial separation brought by Julianne Morrison of St. Paul.

Mr. Justice Ives, defence counsel, interrupted to advise that Justice Ives was not a lawyer.

"Yes, I am," said Mr. Mackie.

"Now, now, Mr. Mackie," said Mr. Justice Ives, and the incident was passed over.

INADEQUATE SHELTER

Mrs. Monvillian, who was married to George, Frank, of St. Paul, and her husband, a farmer on the St. Paul district, has complained of the condition of the present winter shelter in the 102 avenue, more difficult and costly.

It recently brought to the attention of commissioners the fact that some time ago the city had adopted a by-law requiring that the main highways out of the city as far as the city line, and the city line as far as the highway, be the 102 avenue, was more difficult and costly.

EATON'S FRIDAY BARGAINS

Friday
Bargains

Store Opens at 8:30 a.m., Closes at 5:30 p.m. Daily — Except Wednesday, 8:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. To Call EATON'S, Dial 9-1-2-0.

New! Smart! Spring Daytime Frocks at a Bargain

Cotton frocks for summer — wear them right now at home, and later everywhere. Charming styles have the season's tricks of broadening the shoulders and emphasizing slender hips and waistlines. Some in silky smooth lawns or prints, with pert touches of organdy or pique — piping — hemstitching. Others ideal for collegiate, — bright ginghams with leather-like belts. Remarkable value. Sizes 14 to 44.

FRIDAY BARGAIN

Bargain! Embroidered Hankies of Finer White Cotton Half the Usual

Fill up the family's hankie boxes at this Bargain! Dainty, finely textured squares of snowy cotton — usually they'd be double the price. The hems are neatly turned, and finished in fine hemstitching. Corners boast embroidered designs in white or colors. And this is just one of several exciting hankie bargains, tomorrow.

A Bargain Leader—Smart New Printed Rajah Silks

Here's a bargain that should crowd the dress-goods section at 8:30 tomorrow morning! 250 yards bought at a special saving from the maker. Last year this heavy quality silk sold for more than a dollar. It washes like gingham. An attractive weave, with a rough surface — in rose pearl, green, white, egg-shell, maize, with a wide choice of printed designs. 34-inch. FRIDAY BARGAIN
